1. [REDACTED] telephoned to say that General Cabell had requested that we devise a standard operating procedure which would automatically bring about concerted consideration as to whether to notify the next of kin upon the death of a CIA employee. This is brought about by the recent death and injuries on

6. Talked to Jim Garrison about the assignment of someone to replace [REDACTED] and also about the assignment of a principal assistant to Doug [REDACTED] told him that I thought it would be a serious mistake to assign [REDACTED] in Ken's shop and he has now agreed to sit down with Ken and Doug to work out something which would be agreeable to all concerned.
